office of spirit-booster.

B RUNSWICK ULLDOGS

The Bulldogs maintain their royal status. Working together as a family we've become a powerful Dynasty. We dominate Southside, either being number one or staying in the top three.

When everyone pulls together to make it to the top, you've got nothing less than winners. The core of our success is based on this. We concentrate on being the best. Check the scoreboards, the district, regional or state rankings. Over 90% of the time we ranked in the top three-from basketball to forensics, from football to Home Ec. The Dynasty rolls on down the road.

Winning came with hard work. Once you'd won though, it was time to celebrate.

Whether sports or academics, the Bulldogs had lots of spirit and charisma. We were always on our way to a victory.

THE BULLDOGS ARE FIRED UP and ready during homecoming activities, as they await victory over the Statesmen.

We believed we could accomplish the best, so we enjoyed ourselves in the process. As winners we deserved rewards and celebrations and we made the best of both.

BEFORE GOING HOME early one day in January, Buffy Green takes the opportunity to bomb Pam Sitterson with a snowball.

ANGIE WALKER, Caroline Richardson, Darren Franklin, Lillian House, Teresa Pearson and Timu Stith think carefully before casting their vote for the homecoming queen and her court.

PECTACULAR PELLBINDING PORTS

Besides academic achievements, the Bulldogs excell at sports. Whether it's a team or individual effort, the main objective is to be the best.

Everyone helps out in some kind of way. The monogram club helps raise money for athletic equipment. Team members work hard to be number one in their field. Individuals make their best efforts to win in sports like tennis and track. Fans, cheerleaders, and the Bulldog mascot are always ready to cheer on a victory.

The Boy's basketball team worked hard to get second in state. They worked together like a family and came out winners. They defeated Robert E. Lee High School, the State champions last year.

As with all the sports, team effort and good attitudes show who holds the real power.

FANS WATCHING a J.V. football game make you wonder "weather" the atmosphere was hot or cold.

Bulldog Shuffling Crew COMING THROUGH

Arch rivals Greenville and Nottoway became the main targets for the season. The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat came as these two were met.

Team member Harold Reavis, Jr., said, "I thought we were an outstanding and hard-working football team. Our coaches worked us very hard to be the best we could. We had an excellent defense which only allowed an average of two points per game. Our offense was very reliable on the big play, producing impressive running gains. I think we had the best backs in the league."

A NOTTOWAY LINEBACKER hurtles over his own man in an attempt to stop the running JV's as Keith Cole and David Baxter come up to block. Brunswick loses: 0 to 6.

IN THE LAST offensive play of a losing effort, Ronell Pearson, guarded by Corey Wilkins, throws over Troy Malone to Derwin Seward for a 12 yard gain against Nottoway: 0 to 6.

DAVID BAXTER blocks a Southampton Indian as Derwin Seward turns the corner and heads for the end zone in a winning effort: 29 to 0.

Being On The Bench Ain't No Cinch

Have you ever been on the bench and had the coach tell you to let one of the starters borrow some of your equipment? If you thought you were going to play, think again. You don't have all your equipment and you know you're not going to play.

Now you're sitting down and someone gets hurt. The coach calls you, but you can't go in because you don't have all of your gear. So he calls on the guy beside you, who can't play anyway. The guy goes out and on the first play, picks up a fumble and runs it in for a touchdown. You think "that could have been me!" So you say to yourself, "Ain't no cinch being on the bench."

DARRYL HARRIS, Tracey Jarrell, Keith Chavis, John Hardy, Coach Dale Mims, Coach Mike Raney, Tony Studivant, and

Carlton Walker look on as Derwin Seward gets a first down in the game against Greenville: 22 to 0.

ANOTHER TD! John Hardy and Stephan Reed watch the JV Bulldogs score another touchdown against Lunenburg: 0 to 12.

Bulldogs Big Adventure

Coach Mike Raney said, "Give us 2 points, and we would have placed second; give us 22pts. and we would have been first."

The offensive line was determined to established running lanes and to protect their quarterback. The defensive line concentrated on controlling the line of scrimmage and destroying the opponents offensive plan.

They met their goals offensively but came up short defensively. As a team the Bulldogs averaged 18 points per game and allowed only 11 points per game to opponents.

GOING for that extra yard against Franklin, Jimmy Jones blasts downfield as Brunswick loses: 24 to 28.

CHARLES MARKS bucks the Broncos as he gains more than five yards and a touchdown.

JIMMY JONES struggles for yardage against Greenville behind the blocking of Charles Marks as they won the game 12 to 0.

TARA OWENS goes up for another basket against Central of Lunenburg as Tina Evans boxes out. The Bulldogs went on to win this game by a score of 46 to 21.

AIMING HIGH against the Central defense, Pat Evans adds even more glory to the Bulldogs as she shows the Central players the style for which Brunswick was known. Lolita Clary sets up for the rebound.

GOING UP for another shot against Central of Lunenburg, Tara Owens prepares the crowd for another two points. Tina Evans moves in for the rebound.

Girls Take District LADY LUCK

"The Lady Bulldogs won another game last night . . . ". This was a usual comment on the morning announcements because the Ladies had an excellent season, with a final record of 23 and 1.

Coach Freddie Reekes said that this was an excellent year for the Ladies. They beat their many opponents by an average of 28 points. Even the team's high scorer had an average of 14.7 points and 5.2 rebounds per game. With a field goal average of 43.7% and a rebound average of 37%, it was obvious that the Ladies' team was one of the best that this school had ever seen, especially after winning the Southside District Title for the fifth consecutive year and became Regional runner-up. At the end of the season, all Bulldogs were acclaiming the "LADY LUCK".

IN SPITE OF BLOCKS Adela Jones follows through after her shot to add two more points to the score and help the team to their victory with a score of 63 to 10.

THE GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM
Front: Loleta Clary, Timika Baxter, Adela Jones, Alisa Beasley, Patricia Malone, Chi-

Three Cheers LADY BLUE

The Lady Bulldogs went through the district and regional basketball tournaments without a loss until they were closely defeated by Franklin 36 to 39. Although they lost the regional game, they still stood proud with a record of 23 and 1.

Hard work and determination marked the beginning of this successful season. A special pep rally in the auditorium heralded the district champions at the end of the season.

To the Blue Ladies . . . Here! Here! To the Regional Runner-up . . . Three cheers! Rah! Rah! Rah!

FLYING HIGH Tina Evans soars over the Nottoway defense. Moves like this gave Tina two more points and racked up another victory for the Bulldogs: 41 to 34.

"WHAT IF . . ." Coach Freddie Reekes reviews defensive plays. Loleta Clary, Tara Owens, Daphne Trusty, Tina Evans, and Pat Evans practice defending the weak side.

A DRIVE TO THE THE BASKET and a Park View opponent keeps Patricia Malone on her toes as Veronica Northington waits for the pass. Brunswick won this game with a score of 53 to 22.

IN THE SAME GAME Tina Evans attempts another two points as Loleta Clary boxes out her opponent and Tara Owens gets ready for a hard rebound.

STRETCH, 2 3 4 . Coach Susan Ess leads cross country runners in stretching warm ups and she runs every day with them on their two mile run.

PULLING AWAY from two defenders, Joey Hammack places second in a cross country meet against Greenville and Bluestone. Home meets were held at SVCC in Cochran.

Not Going To Let Them GET THE BEST OF US

Although the cross country team was made up of thirteen boys and only one girl, she wasn't going to let them get the best of her. The Cross Country team practiced two to five miles everyday to prepare for meets which are 3.1 miles. Everyone was allowed to run regularly scheduled meets, but the top five runners were the scoring team. The only girl, had to compete as an individual. Most students who go out for Cross Country stay on the team, mainly because this is an individual sport as well as a team sport. These young people had a lot to do such as running through the woods, running on the road, running in the dirt paths, running up long hills, running through puddles, and running in the rain. Practice usually lasted about an hour depending on how far Coach Susan Ess wanted them to run that day.

Now, what did they eat? That's easy, anything they liked. Yes, that's right, but Coach Ess stressed strongly that they drink plenty of fluids and watch what they eat before a meet. It just doesn't get any better than that.

TERRANCE WOOD, Eddie Radford and Monica Rice stretch their legs and arm muscles as they prepare for the meet.

AS JAY BURKE cleans grass off his club, Sam Lewis prepares to tee off at the fifth hole. The upside-down cups are not for drinking but for marking the place to tee off. Jay Burke placed seventh in the state.

"FORE!" Mike Clary drives in a practice game to develop his skill and to aid his team in its 6th place regional finish.

THE GOLF TEAM: Front — Will Walker and Camp Rawlings; Back — Mike Clary, Sam Lewis, and Jay Burke.

No Guns, Just Glory

L'VILLE SLICE

Look at those kids, just knocking away at my nice, green grass, Why do they insist on hacking away at those poor little balls like they're Jason in Friday the 13th? I just don't understand it! They come out here all the time tearing up my lawn. I think I'll have to reseed the place once they get finished! It's really pretty boring. All they do is drop a ball on the ground, hit it, climb in that funny looking cart, drive off to where the ball is, and hit it again.

And the way they look! Those funny shorts and shoes! Don Johnson eat your heart out.

WILL WALKER wields his trusty putter to knock the ball where it belongs.

SAM LEWIS perfects his follow through as Jay Burke looks to see where the ball went.

JUMP! JUMP! for the goal, Farryl Harris despite high blocking battles for this goal against a Greenville player in district playoffs.

CAUGHT IN MID-AIR Rondale Pears aims high for the goal over Greenville blocking. Poised and ready to jump for the rebound, Clarence Powell and Regina Taylor wait their next move.

GREENSVILLE GUARDS try to stop Earl Jarrell's two-points — no such luck. Brunswick won and took home the district championship.

You Don't Really Want To BATTLE-BATTLE

The young Bulldogs led the District as they battled with winning on their minds and came out winners. The JV goals were to battle to the top by the end of the season and to win the championship. Even though the team felt bad about losing their coach, Dale Mims, that just made them more determined to be best. They felt that the new coach would still lead them to be "number one". But it was a struggle with having a new coach because it took time to get into what he wanted.

Assistant coach, Martin Astrop, commented, "I felt good about coaching the team, but they didn't feel good about having a coach only two or three years older than they were."

The district basketball record was 9-1. The Junior Bulldogs were so aggressive, that it often resulted in foul trouble with some of the players. Playing bigger guys was a definite lift for these guys. It gave them a great feeling, knowing they had won over bigger players. JV usually practices 1 to 1 1/2 hours a day, but the team says they would have loved to practice more.

JV BASKETBALL TEAM: Front — Rondale Pearson, Haywood Fields, Alvin Edmonds, Derwin Seward, Corey Wilkins, and Earl Jarrell; Middle — Farryl Harris, Stephan Reed, Keith Chavis, Fred Stith, and Clarence Powell; Back — Assistant Coach Martin Astrop, Reginald Taylor, James Harris, Darryl Harris, Mike Clary, and Coach Ralph Traynum.

EXHIBITION BATTLE with triple A school Armstrong-Kennedy uses all the height that Clarence Powell can reach for a block.

PAUL GEE drives in two points against Park View as Joseph Owens waits for an offensive rebound. Brunswick wins 73 to 58.

Brunswick Dog Trotters DOGGY FRESH

Brunswick Bulldogs clinch district title in their 8th game. The district record earned an automatic spot in the Regional Tournament. An outstanding average of 71 points in district games and the opponents were allowed to average only 44 points. The overall average for the 19 games was the Bulldogs 67 and opponents 49. The only loss was against Triple A "Power House" Armstrong Kennedy. That didn't count for the District record but for the season.

A lot of fans wondered what was behind the Bulldogs success. The non-starting players worked the starting five tremendously hard at practice. Scrimaging during practice was a lot of help not only to the starting five but to all of the players.

CHARLES MARKS, Bryant Stith and Kevin Posey make sure they have two points as they block out Nottoway players. Brunswick wins 71 to 35.

Maybe Fate #2 IN STATE

The Bulldogs hit the road to the State's Final Four in late February to end up as State runners-up.

The first stop was the semi-finals of the District Tournament. The Notoway Cougars came to play, but play what "Possums" The closest the game ever got was 2-0. Brunswick wins 73 to 47.

The next night the Bulldogs met Park View. Fortunately for Park View the tournament was held on their home floor, but this didn't stop the Bulldogs from jumping to a 22-3 lead. The closest Park View got after that was a 10 point spread losing: 78 to 61.

After breezing the District Tournament the next stop for the Bulldogs was the Regional Tournament. In the first round the Bulldogs met Franklin and "frankly" wiped them out by a score of 66 to 43.

The Bulldogs advanced to the semi's of the Regional. The Bulldogs met Colonial Heights. The Colonials hung in early, but ran out of gas in the end as the Bulldogs prevailed again by a score of 61 to 48.

In the finals of the regionals the Bulldogs faced Varina. The Bulldogs jumped out to a 7-point halftime lead. Varina came back and led by 1 after 3 periods. In the final period the lead switched back and forth. Varina went to the foul line with 20 seconds and the score tied. He hit both but a whistle by the ref kept the basket from counting: he had stepped on the line. With five seconds left on the clock, Brunswick hit the winning shot: 54 to 53. This clinched the Region I championship for Brunswick.

The Bulldogs met undefeated R E Lee in the State Semi's. Thirty-two minutes later they were undefeated no more. After trailing 7 — 2, the dogs ran off a 10 — 2 spurt. R E Lee never saw the lead again. The Bulldogs started the second half like a "team with a mission." With two vicious dunks and aggressive defense, Brunswick held on to upset R E Lee, 56 to 51.

The Bulldogs faced the #11 team in the nation in Martinsville in the finals. The Bulldogs lost: 74 to 64.

This team has District Fever!

With all that happens during any given season it is amazing that teams hold together but this team did not just hold together, they made it to the playoffs.

A new head coach took the honor of leading these girls to the playoffs in her first season. The team's ability did not falter as can be seen with the score in the first district game — the girls won by 25 runs!

Perhaps the most interesting event of the season was not on the field but had more to do with the clock. A RH bus broke down on the way here and showed up about two hours late. What had been scheduled as an afternoon game turned into a night game.

As the season drew to a close the team realized that it took a lot to be a good team, but all the qualities needed, such as drive and dedication, could be found in themselves.

Substitute. Francis Colbert steps in and takes over the job of catcher during the steamroller job the girls do to Park View: 35 to 10.

Play Ball! Lolita Clary snags a fly during warmups as she comes off the field thinking that the game will soon start. However, the RH bus had had difficulties and would not arrive for two more hours. Brunswick would win: 12 to 11.

Sacrifice Hits

RUNS BATTED IN

It's tough to play your best game ever and not have anyone see it. Well, sure a few girl friends and proud parents, but spring sports just don't pull the crowds that some sports do. Baseball proved no exception but that Bulldog tenacity helped the team through another year to remember.

With a respectable but non-headline grabbing record, the team earned a reputation of solid, if not fantastic, play. The hitting was good. The fielding was good. The pitching was good. But against more powerful teams we found ourselves on the losing end as often as not.

Two new items at the games helped the team's pride — two things that made us look professional. An outfield fence, with flags, was erected this spring. There had been something out there before but it was not as impressive as this fence. Now a ball player could really say he knocked one out of the park. And Night Games — just like the big leagues! Lights that could be seen for miles announced that we had a game.

Bunt! Sam Lewis does not get on first base with this sacrifice bunt but it does advance Ryan Henry to third base as Brunswick loses to Greenville: 6-10.

The Baseball Team Front — David Baxter, Derwin Seward, Atlas Wright, JoJo Owens, Tony Studivant, Frank Wright, and Assistant Coach Gary Crane; Middle — Coach Tuffy Leemon, Thomas Jones, Orlanzo Gillus, Taylor Clarke, Sam Lewis, Ryan Henry, Mark Roberts, and Mark Clary, mgr.; Back—James Jones, George Jones, Troy Malone, Joey Hammack, Randy Lynch, and Mike Clary.

Homerun! Derwin Seward accepts congratulations for his homerun against RH that wins the game from teammates Taylor

Clarke, Joey Hammack, Tony Studivant, Sam Lewis, David Baxter, Frank Wright, and Troy Malone.

You're Out! A sacrifice bunt by a Nottaway player backfires as third baseman Thomas Jones tags the runner with a throw from catcher David Baxter while pitcher Frank Wright watches his teammates work.

Didja hear the one about . . . Actually the team members give each other encouragement and pointers on how the game is going. Frank Wright, Sam Lewis, Mike Clary, Randy Lynch, and Coach Tuffy Leemon.

Triple! Thomas Jones bags a triple on the next pitch and drives home one more RBI in the game against Greenville.

The Girls GO FOR IT

And go they did — to other schools because our track was not up to standard requirements. But that was OK; for the first time we saw a coach just for the girls and a seperate team just for the girls.

When the girls found out they had their own coach a feeling of pride sped through the ranks. They were noe a seperate unit.

Then the girls found out that they went as their own team, not just some people to fill out the team, but as their own team.

The number of students to go out for track and the consistant effort of the members showed a renewed interest in a long-quiet sport.

The Flash! Cherie Collier turns on the afterburners and pulls away from the rest of the field as she takes first place against Park View and Bluestone.

Blue Sky! Flying high, Monique Willis scratches as she takes off on this long jump attempt.

The Girl's Track Team Front — Timika Baxter, Monica Morgan, Cherie Collier, and Juanita Gillus; Middle — Karen McMillian, Jackie Taylor, Jerry Valentine, and Florret-ta Stith; Back — Deborah Singleton, Rhonda Brodnax, Lisa Campbell, and Coach Susan Ess.

Please be seated. Yolanda Brown helps Monica Morgan stretch the long muscles by sitting on her back before the meet.

Smooth! Deborah Singleton gracefully clears the hurdles as she manages to take second in the District Track Meet.

PROMISING TRACKSTER Timika Baxter takes this hurdle in stride. Unfortunately, she would be in an automobile accident that would temporarily prevent her from reaching her potential during her junior year.

JIMMY JONES plants the starting block as Cherie Colier begins a victorious Girls' 400 meter relay at the District Track meet in Greenville.

JUANITA GILLUS pulls into first place as she shows the determination it takes to win against Bluestone.

Individuals Push Themselves

TEAM ADVANCES

Flying High! Charles Marks will knock the bar down on this high jump attempt. At this met the winning jump was barely over five feet.

Let 'er fly! Timmy Moore, recruited in midseason to throw things, releases another discus into the wild blue yonder.

And coming up on the outside . . . Jimmy Jones holds off a desperate challenge by another runner as he wins this heat.

Track is a sport in which you can make a lot of friends but you can't count on them. No, wait, don't get upset. You see, even though the team members can cheer for each other and help each other warm up before a meet, when it comes right down to an event the trackster competes against a clock or a tape measure.

Individual effort shows as a long distance runner does laps long after the rest of the students have gone home for the day. It shows as a solitary figure explodes out of a little circle sending a shot or discus flying only to slowly walk over and pick it up. It shows as a runner hears an imaginary voice and shot start a race which no one will win.

Without this drive the team would not have formed. Without this desire the team would not have stayed together. Without this spirit the record would not have been one to write home about.

THE TRACK TEAM Front — Erike Fields, Travis Garnes, Ronald Phillips, Bernard Parham and Horatio Nunn; Middle — Milton Pearson, Carlton Walker, Jimmy Jones and Everett Gillis; Back — Gregory Fields, Milton Weaver, Charles Marks, Coach Percy Bunch, Jerry Dilworth and Anthony Jones.

THE MOST IMPORTANT characteristic of any winner is determination and Jerry Dilworth, who would go on to win second in the State in the hurdles, shows that he knows what that is.

PAUL GEE, half of the district champion doubles team, watches to see if his serve will drop in.

Determination TENNIS TAKES FIRST

The Tennis Team surely was not the most talented team ever, but with determination and effort they captured the district crown. Their matches were won by putting forth that little extra effort. The will to win pushed them over the top.

Team unity also played a major role in their victories. Everyone was willing to play with anyone else on the team. The veterans were willing to give playing time to allow the rookies to gain experience.

As the Tennis Team proved, victory can be achieved through determination, effort and unity. Skill is just the icing on the cake.

THE OTHER HALF of the district champion doubles team, Wally Edwards, takes a backhand cross court during final practice for the season.

CONCENTRATION. Sean Evans, Paul Gee, and Violet Mays await their turn to play in a home match.

IN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT Harold Reavis concentrates on getting his first serve in bounds.

THE TENNIS TEAM: Front — Harold Reavis, Jr, Violet Mays, Paul Gee, Anil Abraham, and Arthur Reavis; Back —

Kevin Claiborne, Jay Burke, William Vaughan, Sean Evans, Wally Edwards and Coach Michael Bollinger.

IN A DISTRICT SINGLES match against Randolph Henry, William Vaughan displays his slice forehand.

AFTER PUTTING ON THE DOG, Monique Willis, who alternates duties with Andrea Gillus, gets set to arouse the team and fans to higher spirits.

BEFORE JUMPING into the mascot uniform, Monique Willis takes time to share some laughs with Tina Evans.

The Human Cheer Boxes FRESH FANS

Behind every winning team there are people who cheer them on to victory and give them all the support and confidence needed to win. Who are these people? They are the fans. It was the fans who helped a player make a free throw to win a game. It is the fans, who held their breath and hoped that player will sink the winning shot to win the ever-so-important regional game to advance toward the state basketball championship.

So it was at the Brunswick-Varina game with shooting the winning shot in the last five seconds of the game. The cheers that were heard let the team members know that their fans were supporting them.

Buying everything with "Bulldog" on it was what being a fan was all about. Fans buy pom-poms, hats, stickers, buttons, jogging suits, seat cushions, jackets, stick pens, pencils, and even had royal-blue Bulldog paws painted on their hands and faces. Yes, it was the ever loyal fans, who made winning not only great but worthwhile.

THE COMPETITION is not only on the football field but in the stands as well. Kim Radford, Emily Peace, Andrea Clary, Beth Walker, Sandy Malone, and Allison Edwards compete with each other to see who can wear the most fan buttons.

"THIS LOOKS GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT, but we had to give it up to the teachers," comments Sandra Easter.

F ABULOUS ACILITATING ACULTY

What would it feel like to walk down the halls of this school with an armed guard beside us? How would we concentrate with police dogs wandering the halls?

Well, we don't have to worry about it here; Bulldogs are not like that and the teachers would not let things get that out of control. Principal Dale Baird stated that this school is a lot safer than most in terms of violence. There are some schools in which the students are afraid to walk the halls or go to the bathroom. "Our school is not in that category at all," commented Mr. Baird.

Just prior to the writing of this article, in a large, metropolitan area of Virginia, three junior high students were arrested for bringing a gun to school. Now think about it — aren't we lucky?

We have reason to celebrate. People walking into this school see happy faces and students having fun in the halls.

Some students come to school just to be in the halls and clown around. Well, if it works . . .

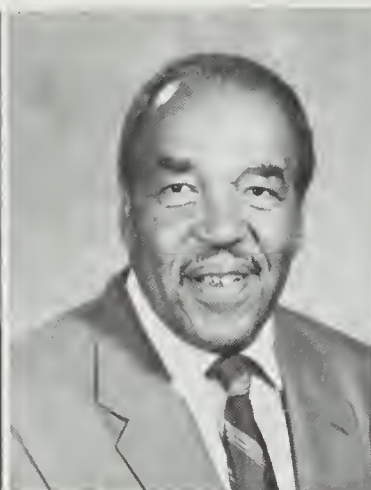

"LET'S GET TOGETHER," James Jones, Henry Brodnax, Angie Walker, Carl Shearin, LaVado Harris, and Deborah Berry celebrate a little extra time after lunch. This unique gathering happened only this one time.

MR. TENUS THOMPSON gives the "sign" for arriving buses to remain at school for the early closing caused by rain and flooding.

Principals Gear Up Time III O'Clock

There's more to the job of principal than the ordinary 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. school day. Games, dances, and community activities have to be supervised by a member of the administration. The time spent after school and on weekends is divided "equally" between each, so one will not be loaded down with all the responsibility.

The most unusual responsibility for principals would be substituting for a teacher when no permanent replacement could be found. That's exactly what Mr. Dale Baird did for Mr. Dale Mims' psychology class. He became the "principle" substitute for the substitute.

Mr. Tenus Thompson is assigned to bus duty, whether it's rain or shine, snow or ice. To the students he is the bearer of good news — "Hold Thoses Buses! They will reload after the 8:50 a.m. bell."

Mr. Jerry Burke can usually be found in the "student lounge" before and after school, during lunch and break, selling tickets for almost everything. He also coaches our winning boy's basketball team.

TOO MANY MISTERS in the kitchen "spoil" the celebration. Dr. Dan Avent and Mr. Jerry Burke serve the All-American Menu, hamburgers, hot dogs, and french fries during National School Lunch Week.

Teachers Expand Their Horizons Time-Out For Fun

After a long, tiring day of preparing children for the hard, technical and competitive world ahead of them, many teachers still found extra time and energy to do something extra for the motivated students. Whether coaching football, tennis, golf, cross country, cheerleading, or basketball, teachers put all they had into doing it. In doing so, feelings of pride, caring and competitiveness spread through the teachers as well as the students they helped.

The students really appreciated the extra things the faculty members did for them. It made them feel that the teachers really cared about their education both in and out of the classroom. This also contributed to better student-teacher relationships which accounted for better grades. This proved to the students that teachers are not all "bad" but there was a fun side to them also. After all, they were human, weren't they?

The Dynasty belonged to us. We hold the source of power for the near future. The AQT, softball, SCA and, indeed, every part of the school would change with our influence.

Many sociologists believe that for a society to remain strong the family must remain strong. As sophomores, we became the "child" of the family — watching all the time. Soon we would be asked to carry the weight, to continue the domination of Southside, to be THE DYNASTY. This is the story of our success.

Being sophomores at the senior high made us realize that we were closer to becoming young adults and farther from being dependent children. We held our own in the "family" even though we might be considered pups.

Soon these children matured and by the end of the year a new phrase sounded throughout the county, "Move over. I'm driving."

Sophomores On Hand Plans Expand

So, this was where it all started. Being sophomores, we had many challenges ahead. Those of us who wanted to go to college had to start working now. We were the first to experience the new regulations concerning graduation. Our class would have to meet the requirements for a 20 or 22 credit diploma. The 22 credit plan included learning foreign languages consisting of three years of one foreign language or two years of two different languages.

We had to take six classes, not to mention that some of us had three honors classes. There were no more study halls, so the time had to come from somewhere. We had to work harder not only at school, but at home too.

We also had the opportunity to work with the computers. With a full load on our backs, they helped save time and energy.

Honors Classes Move Masses

Sophomores were surprised to find that taking harder courses would be worth more than regular classes. Since honors courses used a five point grading scale, sophomore GPA's improved greatly.

When asked how she felt about the honors program, sophomore class president Violet Mays said, "The honors program helps to challenge the motivated student by giving each student more complex work and then awarding more credit for the work."

Whether the sophomores were ready for these honors classes or not, one thing was certain — school was suddenly much more challenging than before.

Learning To Drive Soph Stride

One joy in coming of age is the opportunity to feel the wind whipping through your hair as you cruise down the highway. Unfortunately, the wind blows through your hair only to have your parents roll up the window saying bluntly, "It's my car and you only have your learner's permit!"

The joy of driving the family wagon to pick up your "blind" date fills your little heart with mush; however, you first must take "Behind the Wheel."

These three words send terror into the hearts of teens. "Maybe I will drive before I am 25," sighs one student after learning he must be placed on the waiting list.

After recovering from fears and frustrations we sophomores adjusted to the new atmosphere. Looking ahead, the sophomores sold cushions to raise money for the Junior and Senior Prom. Not only did they think of an ideal way to raise money but a solution for an aching gluteus maximus. The cushions sold for $3.50 and a profit of almost $1000 was raised. In an effort to help pay for the expenses of the cushions, 40 advertisements were sold on the back of the cushions. If you brought a cushion your seat-aches were over.

JIFFY UBILANT UNIORS

"Snickers? M&M's?" With the privilege of rank in this powerful Dynasty also came new responsibilities. We realized that now we began to control some things, to make things happen in this family. This was the year for us to find out just how far we could control our world.

The Prom created that unique sense of wonder in the school again but this time we found out just exactly where all the money came from-CANDY! Cases of it filled the bookroom. Bags of it were carried down the halls. Our arms became tired but the money kept coming.

Ordering class rings was exciting. It gave us a great opportunity to personalize our own styles, distinguish ourselves as Juniors, and to celebrate our position in the Bulldog dynasty. Then our rings came. The price had seemed steep when we ordered these jewels, but on the day of arrival we saw that our hard earned money had been well spent.

As the "young adults" of this dynasty, responsibility began to be placed upon our shoulders but along with it came control, freedom and pride.

Jrs Rock Beat Box Homeboys Jam

A unique era of making sound began when the "Human Beat Box" of the rap group The Fat Boys made rap music. Be-bop people were not imitating the group itself but the sound that the human beat box made. Those who rapped found others to do the beat box to their rapping. That way it was not a problem to find music. The sound created was simply a beat that contained rhythm to make people move.

Many guys walked down the halls between classes doing the beat box. If things got boring in class, they made things exciting with a little music.

Hammack/Johnson Cleated Defeat Victory Slips

Pre-Homecoming field competition came down to a tug-of-war between the Juniors and the Seniors. The Juniors won the first match, but after an appeal by the Seniors, who had observed that the Juniors had cleats and the Seniors didn't, there was another match. In this match everyone was bare-footed and the Seniors won. The tug-of-war was worth enough points so that whoever won had a very good chance to win it all.

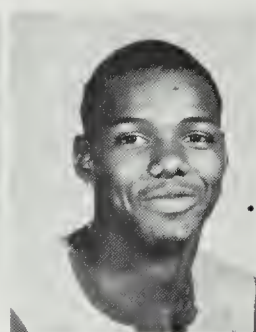

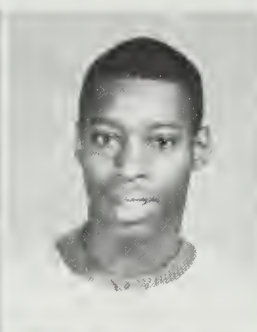

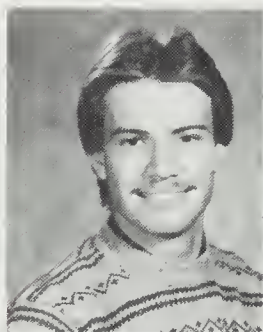

The day started with the ballon toss in which the Juniors and Seniors tied for first place. In the relay race the Juniors took last place after being disqualified because they dropped the egg.

Then it all came down to the tug-of-war. The Juniors were cleated, uncleated, and then de"feet"ed.

Candy Sells Well Juniors Excel

How long would it take you to throw down 239 pounds of plain M&M's? How long would it take you to eat 40 cases of peanut M&M's, the kind that really cause dental problems? Okay then, how about 12 cases of Snickers?

Candy was one of the biggest and best sellers for the Juniors. A tidy little profit of $700.00 swelled the Junior treasury.

With the class sponsors' help enough money was raised to once again finance a Prom. As the candy sales ended in the Spring, the Juniors began to look forward to this event which they actually paid for and constructed.

It Won't Linger Because It's . . . Wrapped Around Your Finger

One of the most important tasks for a Junior would be purchasing a class ring. The class ring is a sign of definite graduation for a junior but, what usually happens after they have acquired the ring? It is worn by the girl or boyfriend.

Years ago, there was a superstition that was carried out, after the ring was placed on the finger. A classmate would twist the ring one full turn until the ring was twisted as many times as the number of years of graduation. For the juniors, it would be 87 turns. However, if the superstition wasn't followed through, your ring finger would fall off. There was one exception. If you had a girl or boyfriend, he/she could twist all of the turns.

S UPER ENSATIONAL ENIORS

It was definitely a time to celebrate. Being Seniors felt great. Everyone looked up to us, watching what moves we made.

The year was full of responsibilities. We had to make decisions about whether to go to a local college or get as far away from home as possible.

Some things that made the year more exciting were having senior privileges and taking senior pictures. As always though, some bad comes along with the good. We had more difficult assignments to keep up with.

Also, it cost a lot to be a senior. We had to pay senior dues, pay for senior pictures, graduation announcements, cap and gown, cap and gown pictures, and things for the prom.

It was all worthwhile. We were finally graduating and the hard work prepared us to enter the world as adults.

Asked For Clout We Get Out

The days went by too fast. It seemed only seconds passed from the time we pulled the Junior tug-of-war rematch to the time for prom and graduation.

In between, there was much impatience as the days flew by. Before it was known, Homecoming was over and Prom pictures were being handed out. It seemed like weeks were days, and months were weeks. Graduation was over. Before we knew it, time for college registration arrived.

It's time to leave and tears are shed.
All the Seniors
were looking ahead.
All the "Top Dogs"
had gotten out

It's Bad . . . For Boys When . . .

1. You ask a girl out and she refuses by saying she has to stay home and watch over her baby sister.
2. You save a seat for your girlfriend and she shows up with her ex-boyfriend.
3. You try to impress a girl with your new clothes and you rip a hole in the leg.
4. Your mom calls your ex-girlfriend's name instead of your girlfriend's.
5. You buy a new car and park it under a tree not knowing that a bird is waiting to test it out.
6. You tell the barber to give you a shape-up and he gives you a baldhead.
7. You ask your girlfriend if she will go with you to the prom and she says she'd rather go alone.
8. You pick up your tuxedo for the prom and it is too small.
9. You take your girlfriend out for dinner and find out you don't have enough money to pay for it.
10. You get a job interview and can't remember how to spell your name.

Will Walker, Mark Roberts and Teresa Powell influence underclassmen to express their own future personalities on "Back to The Future" day during Homecoming week.

Crime doesn't pay. Ronnie Edmonds, State Police detective, "frisks" Matthew Moorefield in Every Day Law class.

For Girl's When . . .

1. You are caught half dressed with the only thing holding your top together is a clothes pin.
2. You tell your hairstylist to dye your hair brown and it comes out orange-red.
3. Your boyfriend comes to your house and your ex-boyfriend shows up.
4. You're taking a test in English; everyone is silent, and your stomach growls loudly.
5. Your little brother tells you about the birds and the bees.
6. You wear size 11 jeans and buy a size 5 because they're the best looking pair of all.
7. You're walking in the hall with an arm full of books and drop them all, and get a tardy to class.
8. You finally decide to lose weight and your boyfriend gives you a ten pound box of chocolate.
9. You take every book home to study with except the one you need.
10. All your fingernails are short except one and you break that one during class.

Fruit Sells Fast Needed Cash

Although the truck pulled in a day late, seniors were still able to eat oranges for break Thursday morning. In an effort to raise money for a class trip seniors sold oranges in December. While the project gave class president Robert Conner Jr. a few headaches, it proved to be worth it as he bragged about the thirteen hundred dollars made from the venture. This project proved to be a success. Seniors had already made plans to take on other fund raising projects. According to Senior Monica Morgan, it's ironic that we sold oranges to go to the "Big Apple."

"$105 for announcements!!?"

Seniors spent money for everything. The expenses piled up quickly. Graduation announcements cost $105. Seniors portraits set us back $74. We dropped $45 on dues. Club dues ran us $5. We dished out $22 for cap and gown portraits. Prom attire cost from $70 to $100. SAT and achievements tests ran us $20. An automobile costs $100 (monthly)? Seniors spent an overwhelming $700 this year, and found that nothing was for free.

Seniors Merge Sacrifice And Determination Conglomeration

We were Seniors now; nothing else mattered. The whole situation of school finally came to a climax.

All Seniors knew, "It was better to look good and do great work than to feel good. And work we did. We worked very hard on everything from looking great to doing great schoolwork. After and during school we attended Journalism, Battle of the Brains and Forensic conferences. We pulled extra long and hard hours to make great grades in courses such as Trigonometry, Calculus, Physics, Chemistry, Journalism and Spanish. As Seniors we showed our respect to others by doing "charity" work which included opening assemblies, being guides for orientation, helping as aides in the office, ISS, library, and several classes. We did major work in clubs also. Selling fruit, candy, school spirit boosters, raffle tickets, not to mention doing our share of buying these items. We participated in all sports with much enthusiasm and eagerness to win for ourselves and fellow students."

This all brought us to the fun of being not only seniors, but "Bulldog" Seniors. We had many fun times to cover the hard ones. Going out on Friday nights, Senior privileges, owning our own cars, getting accepted to the college of our choice and most of all just having fun being ourselves.

Top Dogs Hate To Leave Late

"CAN WE LEAVE NOW?" It was almost a chant for the Senior class. As the minutes ticked away, we cast guarded glances at the clock, waiting for it to show three minutes before the bell. The clock was the most reliable source for judging the time, although some seniors kept their watches perfectly synchronized with the "official" time!

As always, there were a few who tried to get out of class even earlier than the allowed 3 minutes. Like the "Dynasty" cast, they were always trying to get out of something!

Seniors Described By Cars They Drive Cruise With The Riders

It happens at day-break. Just as dew is sliding over the glistening chrome mirrors and spoke wheels, we hurry to finish everything so we can jump into our rides and feel the friction of leather between glove and steering wheel. Concentrating on the ultimate ride of our lives, we slide on our shades, turn on the ignition, put the automobile in drive and head on the road.

The sun is shining, the wind is blowing through my hair, I look good in my new shades, there are good looking people cruising around and my car is full of gas.

The music hits the highest level possible and our automobiles do also. We ultimately put our rides to the test of flying around curves at high speeds and doing illegal U-turns on back roads.

The day finally comes to an unhappy end. Our automobiles are tired and so are we. Our rides are safely put away to rest up for the next day of fun in the sun.

LIVE OVE IFE

"Student life" is perhaps what brings some people to school. It's full of many clubs, activities, and sports.

Some students may come just to participate in the sports program, but they can't stop there. They have to maintain a 'C' average to play.

Other students come for many other reasons. To get an education, enjoy socializing with friends, or just because they don't have anything else to do.

Having different things to do on certain days, like the Homecoming pageant, drama presentations or award days, take the pressure off an ordinary school day. Also other special events or club meetings seem to make the day go by quicker.

These activities give students a chance to show off their talents and skills. It also gives us some time to sit back and relax, even though we're in school.

Shanda Mays said, "It's great being a student at BSHS. We have a lot of interesting activities. The teachers work hard to lead us toward academic excellence, and school spirit is great."

Performance? Dynamic

"I hope we don't mess up. I wonder how we're going to look! I wonder how well we'll do! I wonder what people will say!"

The Colorguard and Majorettes, along with the Band, knew they were proficient when it came to music and dance steps. The Colorguard and Band marched their way into a second place performance in the Peanut Festival in Emporia. In the Christmas parade in Roanoke Rapids, they showed quite a bit of spunk and spirit.

Many students didn't always find work in the classroom. They could have a can or brush in their hands to prove they were a real artists. The Art class showed off their achievements on the bulletin board or in the art case in the hall.

THE COLORGUARD practices moving to the sound of the band playing Whitney Houston as they end their routine with a slow high step.

WALLY EDWARDS, Alex Northington, Latonya Barner, Sandra Palmer, Carletta Crenshaw and Janine Hicks warm up with the "Brunswick Shuffle."

ON THE MARCH get ready . . . The Colorguard marched in the Greenville Peanut Festival Parade: Leslie Hill, Caroline Williams, Renee McMillan, and Casandra Easter.

ELIZABETH FLOYD performs "Saving All My Love For You" during the Homecoming Beauty Pageant.

O SAY CAN YOU SEE the pre-game show as Drum Majorette Sheryl Valentine directs Casandra Easter with Flag Guards Subrena Jones, Francine Cleaton and Leslie Hill.

PAINT TIME . Timmy Hill and Delouise Walton takes the terrible smell outside as they painted plaster plaques for Mother's Day.

ANGELA JOHNSON takes notes during a discussion about the Yearbook theme as Angie Adams gives her point of view. Missy Lewis and Wally Edwards pay close attention to this critical point. Homecoming week also accounts for the unusual clothing.

JOURNALISM HAS THE "WRITE" STUFF

The Journalism class had many duties, including publishing The Doggie Digup, writing the yearbook, and whatever else needed to be done. We began the year by learning all the rules that go into setting up the yearbook — and that was a huge job in itself. Immediately after that, we published our first issue of the newspaper, The Doggie Digup, which is the only newspaper that we know of in Southern Virginia that has in-house printing. We also went to the Richmond

Newspapers Journalism Workshop in Short Pump, Virginia, where we listened to such lectures as picture taking, sports writing, and feature writing. We got a new surprise in the Journalism department in February when we got a new IBM Personal Computer and a program to help us in all aspects of yearbook production — stories, captions, layouts, etc. This year, we knew that The Brunswick 1986 would have what it needed — THE "WRITE" STUFF!

WHILE PLANNING for The Doggie Digup, Monica Morgan discusses her article with co-editor Robert Conner, as Rhonda Williams shows her article about being a cheerleader to co-editor Wally Edwards and Jewel Robinson thinks of the 5W's for her article.

NEWSBREAK — "Candy Sweete named Head Cheerleader!" Jewel Robinson, Robert Conner, Monica Morgan, Phyllis Jones, and Shawn Gillus can't suppress their surprise as they find that trivial items such as these are the bulk of stories in almost all High School newspapers. The workshop on newswriting held by the RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH at the Columbian Center in Short Pump gave students the chance to talk to real newspaper people.

FILM AT ELEVEN John Raymond at the Columbian Center in Short Pump, Virginia, for the Richmond Newspapers High School Journalism Conference takes notes during a lecture about creative photography.

Leaders of the Freshest Cheer They're Fun To Hear

Exhausting describes the J.V. and Varsity Cheering Squad. During girls basketball and boys football seasons the girls cheered three and four nights a week and practiced on the days with no game. After football season, the J.V. and varsity cheerleaders only had two weeks to rest and catch up on school work.

The varsity cheerleaders enthusiastically cheered the varsity basketball team to victory in the district, regional and state tournaments. In the past, the cheerleaders went to the state tournaments on the pep bus. This year they went up a day early on a charter bus with the team, which was a treat as they truly enjoyed themselves.

THE BEST PLACE to find snow soon after it starts snowing is on top of a car, as Randy Lynch loads up for another round of attacks.

Have You Heard? We're Going Home Early!

When asked about reasons for cancelling school, most students would answer Snow. After the winter of '86, that reply changed to Flood. Although snow halted school many days, rain had its share, too.

Many mornings school would open, then the snow would start. Getting out of school early left just enough time for a snowball fight behind the school before loading the buses and sliding home.

Sliding home sure beat not being able to get home, as creeks and rivers rose above the flood stages on many back roads as well as 2 of the 3 entrances to Lawrenceville. It got to the point that a good rain was as anxiously awaited as a good snow.

THE MEHERRIN RIVER, on the west end of town, rises out of its banks and closes off that end of town. Lawrenceville made the Richmond Newscast on this night as the bottom flooded.

THE CAFETERIA does indeed do strange things to students sometimes. Tina Evans demonstrates to Terrell Owens the proper way to drink milk. Derrick Easter helps himself and Tanya Barner has her morale boosted at the beginning of second lunch.

THE "RELAXING" ATMOSPHERE of the cafeteria helps students prevent ulcers and hypertension as Shanda Mays and Janine Hicks calmly reflect on the status of their world in general over an exciting meal.

FRESH AIR. Many students need to get out of the building for a few minutes each day. Ann Reed, Beth Jones, Patricia Seward, Carol Baird and Charlie Pegram take a break in early fall.

What's For Lunch — Food? Munching Out

What's for lunch today? If the question were asked on Friday, the answer would most likely be pizza. The Famous Pizza attacked our stomachs constantly at the end of every week. The cafeteria also made other gourmet foods, such as tunafish salad in pita pockets, taco boats, beef nuggets, and "Ole Glory" donuts. All these were made to suit even the pickiest of appetites.

If these foods didn't suit you, there was always the "a la carte" line. This served Brunswick Nuggets, Brunswick Land

Cookies, milkshakes, and french fries. The Freshtastics for the health nuts and weight watchers had various fresh fixings to go in your bowl: lettuce, tomatoes, and cauliflower, and the cafeteria's own secret sauce. All we could find out about the sauce was that it was green.

Finally at break-time, students got to eat "real" food. Food filled with sugars, syrups, artificial preservatives and other good stuff. Many people call it junk food, but we (the students) knew it for what it was — REAL FOOD.

Queen Revealed Fall Reunion

Excitement filled Homecoming Week as everyone wondered who would be Homecoming Queen. It was the most important school event of the year.

Homecoming night was not only a victory for Yolanda Brown, Homecoming Queen, but also for the Bulldogs with the win over the Forest Glen Rangers.

Every year Homecoming Contestants show their favorite leisure and evening apparel to the student body. To show their poise, each contestant had to answer a question expressing their views on an important matter. The questions were simple but they required thought.

A total of twelve contestants competed against each other on the Homecoming Court for a win. This practice helped them to perform perfectly but also gave the student body something to ponder. The students could make a better vote.

Homecoming Night revealed Stacey House as Sophomore princess, Adrian Ruffin as Junior Princess, and Julie Phillips as Senior princess. The most anticipated event occurred with the crowning of the new Homecoming Queen, Yolanda Brown.

SEVEN of the Homecoming Contestants, Sylvia Bugg, Yolanda Brown, Stacey House, Caroline Richardson, Vivian Jones, Shevon Newell and Glenda Jackson, listen to the other contestants prove their poise by answering strange questions which they had never heard before this time.

KEVIN WHITBY and Willie Gillus stand by as the new Homecoming Queen, Yolanda Brown, Mr. Dale Baird, and Angela Carter await the official induction.

AS THE TIME gets closer and closer, the Homecoming Queen Contestants Sylvia Bugg, Marsha Baird, Yolanda Brown and Caroline Richardson prepare to show off their evening apparel.

STACEY HOUSE, along with her escort Kevin Posey, smiles proudly after being selected Sophomore Class Princess.

JULIE PHILLIPS explodes with happiness after being chosen Senior Class Princess. She just loves it!

MR. DALE BAIRD and Jeffrey Vaughan stand in pleasant surprise as Angela Carter helps Adrian Ruffin put on her ribbon after winning the title of Junior Princess.

Students Had A Real Treat Homecoming Week

Many students took advantage of the activities that took place during the school year when students could show their creativity.

Wednesday was "Back to the Future" day. Students had the option of dressing 20 years in the future or 20 years in the past. Interesting outfits consisted of skirts, bobby socks, spiked hair, and torn blue jeans.

The night festivities got spirits soaring with a bonfire and spirit rally. The bonfire included memorial services for a Forest Glen Ranger who succumbed to the power of the Bulldogs. The spirit rally followed in the gym where no shoes were allowed, just socks.

Thursday was "Dress to Impress" day when students dressed in the very best they saw fit. That morning, the Homecoming Court had a pageant. Contestants did their best to persuade classmates to vote for them. Voting took place during lunch which was hard to do because all of the young ladies were stunning.

LISA CAMPBELL, Velma Hicks, Carlton Crenshaw and Caroline Richardson sit on the steps Wednesday morning to display their "Back to the Future" outfits.

DETERMINATION marked the faces of Charles Marks, Paul Gee and Willie Gillus as they pull with their all against the Juniors, but determination was not enough, the Seniors were defeated.

Friday was the last day to show school spirit. Students were asked to dress in blue and white. The class competitions were held that afternoon. The water balloon toss, the egg spoon race, the cheer-off, and the tug-of-war. The Senior class won the spirit stick for the second year in a row.

Friday night was the big game against Forest Glenn which was a victory of 24 to 6. The crowning of Homecoming Queen, Yolanda Brown, and her princesses, Julie Phillips, Adrian Ruffin, and Stacy House took place during half-time.

"BACK TO THE FUTURE DAY" contestants Emily Peace, Beth Walker, Tammy Waller and Mark Roberts anxiously wait in front of the auditorium to be judged in their costumes. Mark Roberts wins in his division and Beth Walker takes her class.

"CAREFUL", says Carlton Walker to Jimmie Jones as he passes the egg from spoon to spoon. However, Carlton Walker's cautioning did not help. Jimmie Jones dropped the egg.

ROBERT WALKER guesses how many jellybeans are in the jar in one of many careteria contests as Anthony Penn helps him.

AGONY OF DEFEAT is what Patricia Cline experiences. Terrell Owens likes this because he knows the sophomores were disqualified from the water-balloon competition.

The Amazing Spiderman! Chris Adcock and Todd Childrey string wire to support the streamers that will become the ceiling on prom night. Shep Moss wonders just how that little wire will hold all that paper.

Hi Ho! Hi Ho! It's Out Of Class We Go

Falling in love takes a lot of work and the students that transformed the gym for the prom this year did just that — a lot of work.

Before school, after school and during school the gym teemed with activity. Students hanging wire, students hanging tinsel, students hanging decorations, and even students cleaning up were everywhere.

Did the prom come off as well this year as in the past? The answer to that is simple — go ask anyone who went. They would be glad to explain that night they fell in love.

Stars To fill the night sky with stars takes a great many people working a great long while as these star makers find out — Andrea Clary, Patricia Harold, Kimberly Outlaw, Elizabeth Floyd, Andrea Robinson, Sandra Jackson, and Shanda Mays.

The work goes on. To camouflage a gym is difficult, as Amanda Weaver, Marion Hardy and Lolita Clary find out while trying to hide a basketball goal. Prom takes a great deal of work and Lolita proves this — she had just returned from a crushing softball defeat.

Interior decorators. Carol Baird and Patricia Seward hang gossimar curtains over a window that looks out into a beautiful, starry night.

If all else fails read the instructions. Beth Jones and Mrs. Barbara Leemom get out the manual to try to figure out this little dohicky.

Star Light, Star Bright It's Prom Night

It was an array of beauty "The Night I Fell In Love." I, along with my escort, walked through what appeared as heavenly archways. Silver hearts dangled in the air and mine felt like gold. Gracefully, like the glittering swans around us, we moved across the dance floor.

Everyone there looked like a star, similar to the ones that glimmered in the background. Elegant pink flowers popped up everywhere just like love in full bloom. Soft candlelight flickered across the room adding to sparks I already felt in my heart. Did you fall in love or more in love?

LISA OWENS AND DANIELLE TATUM discuss the plans they have for after the prom.

BEFORE GOING INSIDE the gym, Robert Conner makes sure he has at least one dance saved for him by Darlene Clements. Chaperon James Thomas also arrives early this night.

AVA SMITH AND PATRICIA RUFFIN wait in line while Kenneth Maitland and Lisa Newton make their picture orders.

"MAY I HAVE THIS DANCE?" Rosa Smith decides whether Darryl Jones or Milton Weaver will have her next dance.

MELINDA VELVIN, RANDY CLARY, Gary Glenn, Ricky House, Missy Lewis, Tammy Wilmouth, and Lonnie Jones were ready to have their pictures taken this night. After all, it's not often you see this bunch dressed up.

WHILE RUTH THOMAS decides who will be her next dance partner, Joey Hammack and Elizabeth Floyd seem to have all their dances taken.

Grade A! The National Honor Society Inductees repeat the pledge that will make these students official members of the NHS.

Grats! Kevin Whitby and Robbert Conner, Jr., express their delight after Principal Dale Baird bestowed the Principal's Co-Leadership Award upon them. The award had not been offered for several years but this year, Mr. Baird found the students.

Students show off their Winning Ways

And the winner is . . . Awards at BSHS are a very important part of our high school years. No matter what our interests were, whether it be Business classes, Vocational Courses, Honors Classes, Athletic teams, or Academic teams such as Academic quiz team, Debate, or Forensics, we were eligible to receive awards, such as plaques, certificates, and trophies. Because such a high number of awards needed to be given out, the school had four awards ceremonies: Vocational Awards Assembly, Fine Arts Awards Assembly, Academic Awards Banquet, and Athletic Awards Banquet.

The first awards ceremony held here this year was the vocational awards assembly. At this assembly, students in all the vocational, Home Economics, and Business classes received awards. This year, there was much reason for celebration. In the District Drafting Competition, BSHS students took the top three places, and students here also placed in Business Competitions and Clothing competitions.

The second ceremony held was the Academic Awards Banquet. At this banquet, the Academic Quiz Team received awards and the NHS inducted new members.

Sonny Wholey Award recipient Martin Astrop shows that winning spirit as he picks up the spirit stick for the victorious seniors at the homecoming day events.

Mr. Mike Raney presents the vocational awards as Lawrence Parham and Terry Slayton listen to find out if they are the next winners.

FBLA sponsors Mrs. Mary Jones and Mrs. Evelyn Thompson receive flowers from member Alicia Wright at the Awards Assembly.

Enjoying the meal before the presentations, Ms. Maxine Massenburg and Sarah Johnson finish thier fried chicken and potatoe salad.

Honor students from all three grades were also recognized. But the highlight of the evening was the National Honor Society Induction Ceremony. Approximately 18 students became NHS members that night.

Third was the Fine Arts Awards assembly. This assembly honored achievers in debate, forensics, drama, creative writing, and other areas.

Finally the Athletic Awards banquet was held. This was held to honor the athletic teams. Awards were given for such things as most valuable player, most improved player, and highest averages. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Sonny Wholey Award, which is given to the most athletic student.

CAPTURED HERE only moments before her speech as Valedictorian, Regina Green expresses some to the more serious feelings evident during graduation.

THE CHANT In an effort to relax these four seniors leaned on a radiator and performed one the the many chants used by the seniors: Pete Beasley, Gary Walker, Randy Lynch and Kevin Posey.

WHERE'S MY PLACE? Honor Graduate and Co-Salutatorian Lisa Owens looks around the halls at a sea of blue and white thinking about how it will feel to stand in front of two thousand people and deliver a speech.

NEVER ONE TO LET THINGS GO unattended, Robert Conner, Senior Class President, discusses graduation plans with Mr. Dale Baird and Subrena Jones after practice is dismissed.

Two Hours And Counting . . . Graduates Get Ready

The Heat — unbelievable. Hats fell off. Camera flashes exploded. People cried. People smiled. Friends laughed. Groups chanted. Some sang. Had to check with homeroom teacher. Who was homeroom teacher? Tie Straight? He made it? It can't be over. Where's the line? Pins-I gotta have a pin! Who's in this room?

Gotta find — darn, forgot the name. Oh, excuse me. Didn't mean to bump into you. Look at all the happy faces. Is it raining? Who said it was raining? They are really sweating — hope I don't. My sunglasses-yea in my pocket. This hat will never stay on.

Watch stopped — only two minutes since the last time I looked. Aw, come on, Mom, wait for me on the field! Can't hear myself think. Smiles. Hugs. Handshakes. Sweaty hands. Cold feet.

My name card — where's my name card — OK, got it. Who was that? Must be a late transfer. Who am I after in line? Yea, shorty over there. Can this be the entire class? Yea, the entire class — the last time we meet as a whole? . . . You mean I'll never see these folks again. Hey, I didn't sign up for that. Well, yea, I guess I did. But hey. I graduate in a couple of hours and it'll be OK. Yea — I'm gonna graduate!

REMEMBER THE TIME . . . ? Sharon Drummond and Suzette Clark discuss their last three years and the classes they shared here only minutes before they line up for graduation.

ANOTHER LIFE full of enjoyable memories surfaces as Ricky Fields and James Jones recount days gone by, standing in the muggy hall prior to the big walk outside.

STARS IN HER EYES. Pearl Jones has just finished making last minute touches on her cap and gown, and the reflection of the camera flash in her glasses captures that sparkling feeling many students had.

And The Seniors Celebrate!!

The heat is not as bad now. Thoughts are coming together a little better. Hey, I didn't trip and fall on the way out. And no one is looking at me right now, anyway. Well, maybe a couple of people are. "Hi, Mom!"

So here's the deal. I get to sit here and act dignified for the next hour or so while all the speakers talk about how good we were, are, going to be. The best part was when that guy, Dr. Davis, from the state department, said his speech was only going to thirty seconds long.

Well, here we go. Stand up, walk over there and wait in line. Look at all the people taking pictures. Be calm, be cool, just hand Mr. Baird my name card and . . . where's the card — I had it right here . . . in this pocket . . . OK, here it is. Hand my card to Mr. Baird and wait until he says my name. Walk over to Mr. Martin. Take the paper with the left — shake with the right. Walk off — WAIT A MINUTE — is this it? Is it really over?

I kinda liked that. No wonder everyone smiles so much at Graduation.

THE CROWD GOES WILD. Cheers exploded from delighted seniors Jason Stith and Bernetta Brown as Mr. Martin uses his powers to officially graduate the Class of '86.

CONGRATULATIONS! Chauncey Blackwell gets a good luck kiss from Phylliss Walker after the evening's ceremony.

CALMLY SHAKING Mr. Martin's hand, Pete Beasley accepts the diploma he worked on for twelve years.

WE DID ALL THAT! Leon Jones and Ken Maitland listen in amazement as State Superintendent Dr. Davis lists some of the accomplishments of their senior class.

HONOR GRADUATE and Co-Salutatorian Bianca Graves proudly shakes hands with Mr. Martin.

THE LINE-UP . Standing up and heading for the podium, Missy Lewis, Marie Libby, Ellen Babb, Angie Walker and Mary Hayes, begin to feel the excitement of graduation night.

WHAT'S THAT? Little distractions can cause eyes to glance around when nerves are this tight as Camp Rawlings and Melvin Coleman listen to the names being called by Mr.Dale Baird.

WE DID IT!! With diploma in hand, Michael Hawkins can no longer control the overwhelming emotions that bubble up on graduation night.

SELLING ANGUINE OLICITATIONS

Selling ads is no easy job as anyone who sold ads for this yearbook can tell you. The sales crew, which consisted of the entire journalism class, covered a tremendous amount of territory and a wide range of businesses to fill out these pages of the yearbook.

By explaining how long the book would last and therefore how many people would see the ads students convinced many local and not-so-local merchants to take out ads.

And after all that work the students had to learn how to design the pages so that they looked good to the potential buyer as well as the merchant. Like the man said about the baseball game — “It ain’t over til it’s over.”

Balfour's Celestrum®!
For the look of white gold at an affordable price.

Nothing beats the beauty of a class ring crafted in Celestrum®. It's a stunning jeweler's alloy designed to be rugged—with the look and feel of white gold.
And like gold, it will never tarnish or discolor. If you like the appearance of white gold but not its price, consider Celestrum®. It's a beautiful way to preserve those precious memories—in a class ring that's as special as you are.

Todd Childrey

Typist

Darlene Clements

Sponsors

Mrs. Juanita Gordon

Mr. Blake Hubbard

At a meeting of the FFA Randy Jones and Mike Jones go over the rules as Mr. Dennis Jones makes sure they get it right.

Pop Quiz! Ava Smith and Patricia Ruffin knock out one more test in English class.

Everyday Law. Channel Wesson and Lynnette McCallister listen closely as a state trooper addresses the class on matters of law that everyone uses every day.

No Limits — We're Never Finished

Seniors! Berneta Brown adds her own touch to the poster that would help her class win the spirit stick.

Even though it was the end of school the year did not feel over until that last exam was finished. By 3:05 tuesday it was over for sophomores and juniors, but the seniors had to return the next morning for graduation practice and suddenly a powerful feeling of completion hit. The year had run down.

Everyone had a way to say goodbye. For some hugging, crying or shaking hands did nicely. For others an overwhelming need to shout and scream became uncontrollable. For still others a peaceful quiet and calm descended.

Summer vacation was a welcome sight to those of us who had to return next year, but jobs, vacations, trips and even plain old fun would cause the summer to evaporate much to quickly.

This had been a year that would not be forgotten any too soon. From our second year on Battle Of The Brains to Second Place in the state in basketball, this year had memories for everyone.

Even our sleepy little town of Lawrenceville made the evening news for the great floods and a fast-food chain announced the construction of an outpost in our town.

Practice makes perfect as the Class of '86 stands in its place for final instructions.

What a mess! Betty Coleman, Angie Morgan and Deborah Singleton have a big job ahead of them as they clean out their lockers for the last time.

BRAD CHILD LEAVES HOMEROOM thinking about going to Drafting a few more times as the end of the year is near.

THE NIGHT OPENED with "Nightfall". David Talbert, Wally Edwards, and Will Walker harmonize with Mr. James Tanner on the piano.

NOT ONLY DO WE PAY attention to chalking the first base line, but also to Randy Lynch's rattail and Allison Edwards's two tone jeans and oversized sweater which were popular styles this year.

Go for it! Randy Lynch and John Lewis draw away in the district drafting competition. Randy would take second here and John would go on to take second in the state.

Time is running out. Only a few moments remain for these students to hang out as students. In about two hours these would become graduates — Vivian Lee, Anthony Taylor, and Jocelyn Taylor.

Hands on experience. Practical applications in masonry evidence themselves as Ernie Claiborne, and Greg Edmonds brick in the ticket booth.

Promenade. Angie Adams and Patricia Cline stroll past the smoking shelter during the last week of school.
